

A teeny-weeny, completely yummy gingerbread house that would tempt the tastebuds of any Hansel (or Gretel) should enchant the estimable Lady Sintana, high priestess of Atlanta's own coven of witches. (Nice witches, mind you, from the Church of Wicca at Ravenwood.) Custom baker Carey Rosenblatt conjured up this confection at Atlanta Weekly's behest, and she can produce similar toothsome fantasies for the sprite on your list.